

ARC × CIRCLE · AGENTIC ECONOMY · FINAL SUBMISSION

Machine commerce just got its SOFR.

And it prints its own attack cost.

ACR — Arc Compute Rate

`arc-compute-rate.vercel.app · Arc testnet · chain 5042002`

WHY

Agents buy compute at floating prices.

No benchmark. So no hedge, no term market, no credit.

+122%

WHAT $8,000 OF WASH TRADING DOES TO A VOLUME-WEIGHTED AVERAGE

HOW

We attacked our own index. It held.

Every print carries its confidence interval and its cost-to-move, in USDC per basis point.

+110.8%

NAIVE VWAP MOVED

+0.20%

ACR MOVED

562x

MORE RESISTANT · CI-GATED

FOR WHOM

An agent already hedges on it. No human.

It pays $0.0001 for the print over x402, then trades the gap to its mandate.

The venue fills it at the same print it just bought — enforced by the contract, not claimed by the agent.

2.71

CONTRACTS HELD

0.24 @ 0.49773

ITS FILL

tx 0x22772154...0041834

Cash-settled futures on the rate.

Settlement refuses a print older than two hours. The feed has something that breaks when the feed breaks.

3

LIVE BOOKS

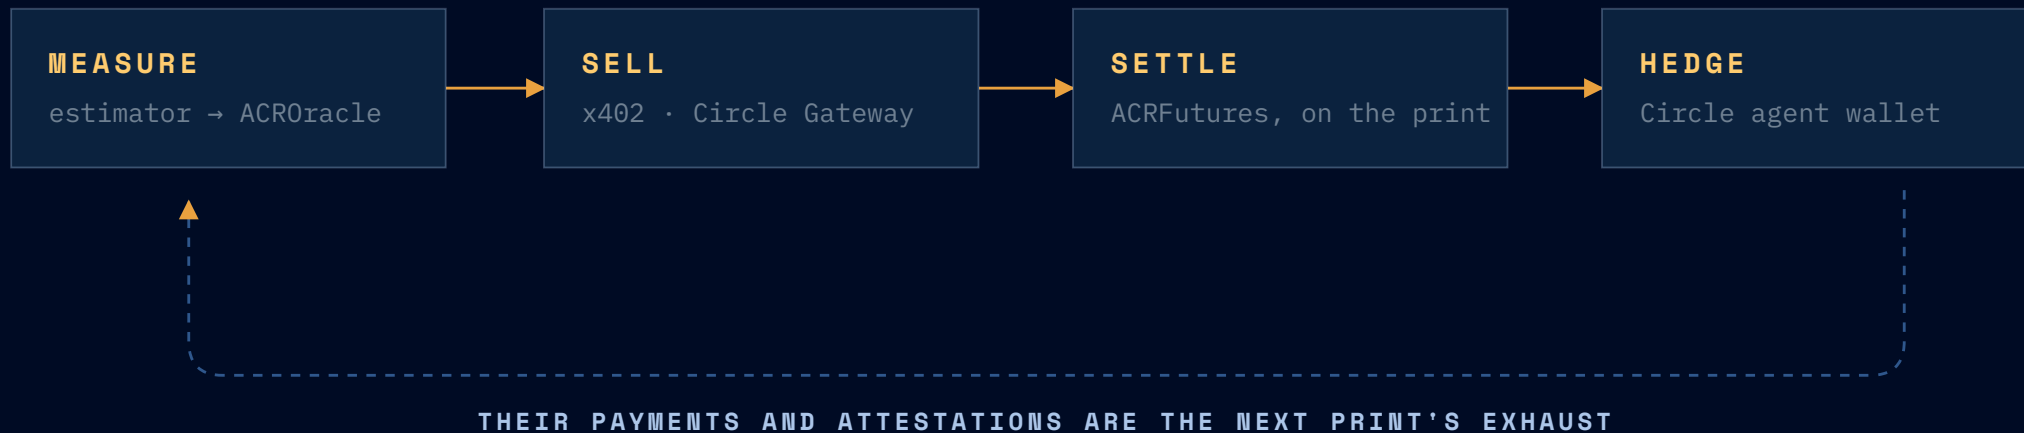

ACR-INF · ACR-GPU · ACR-DATA

3

ROUNDS SETTLED · CASH · FINAL

#2 0.49533 · #1 0.49533 · #0 0.49270 – collateral released

A benchmark is a number something settles against.

Every arrow is deployed on Arc. None of this is a diagram of intent.

ON CIRCLE, END TO END

Eight surfaces. All of them moving real USDC.

Gateway x402 nanopayments

Unified Balance Kit top-ups

Signed webhooks, inbound

Developer-controlled ×4

User-controlled · PIN · Gas Station

Agent wallet + Circle CLI

Marketplace catalog + tape

Skills – one published back

Six wallets, six mandates. A cast, not a checklist.

Check any of it in ten seconds.

THE TERMINAL

arc-compute-rate.vercel.app

THE PRESS

acr-api-1fto.onrender.com

THE VENUE

0x29d97c62...82642fe

THE REPO

github.com/kaustubh76/ACR

445 py · 114 forge · 95 terminal · 10 agent · 426/426 glossary

The tape is a labelled simulator and every payer so far is ours — the plumbing is proven, the demand is not. We say so on the site too.

Stop whining. Hedge.